“ Mom,
You were one of the strongest women I've ever known. You had a fierceness about you that never waned. You loved your family above anything in the world and always prayed for the day you would see us united. The day came, but, still you stood by us. You helped and nurtured and protected us all until you felt secure enough to let go. I believe you went in peace with the belief that it was time for us to fill our places as you knew one day we would. We all love you so much. Rest now and we will see you again when our times come.

“ I will always remember Angie as a kind friendly women, loving mother and a Tia to many. She said hi to everyone and everytime in passing.
Most all she was always there for her children and grandchildren. She never judged anybody.
I will miss the LONG conversations, because you could never have a conversation with Angie without it being over an hour or so long and She always listened. She is with her maker now....May she Rest In Peace. ❤️
