“ I will never forget my stepmother. She was kind, gentle, and had a ready smile for everyone around her. Any gift she was given, she was truly happy for and was always so open and genuine. She and I shared a love of plants and gardening and whenever I talked to my dad, he would always tell me of her garden and all that she did. She was often so busy I didn't get time to talk to her much. Living in Wisconsin, I didn't get to see her or my father often, but it was always a wonderful occasion to see them. I love you, Sali.
