“ I remember the good times we had fishing under El Jobean bridge for catfish. My mom would have us go to my great grandfather's house and help him with his yard. I remember when we got sick at six flags when we ran to many rides. He had moments of such great potential. He was a very hard worker. He will be missed.

“ When I think of Aryn I remember the good times we've had. Fishing for catfish under the El Jobean bridge next to my great grandfather's house is a big one. I remember when my mother took us to six flags of St. Louis and we road rollercoasters together, we both got sick. The weekends my mother would make us go to Grandpa's to help him with his landscaping on our days off. I wish I new at the time how valuable that time together was. He had moments of such great potential. One of the hardest workers I know. He will be missed.

“ Aryn was my baby. I will miss his smile, hugs, and kisses. He was a great painter and drywaller. Mom will always and forever miss and love you my little Doodlebug.

“ Aryn was a young and wiry young man. He lived with us for a year and a half in Kentucky. He found a great job at Gordon foods and was a very hard worker, very funny. He will be missed.
