“ I remember lots of things about my grandma, walking into her house and the smell of fresh baked pies, made it felt like home, like a Grandma's home. She loved spending time with us kids when we were little and doing fun things with us. When we got older and we came to visit her in Arizona, she loved to take us in the mountains. Im missing her letters written to me. Some were simple little notes and others were details of her daily routine.
