“ I am sad to read of the passing of (great) Uncle Dorman. I have not seen him since the 80's, but I was just thinking of him right about the time of his passing. I remember going hunting with him when I was probably about 16. Rest in peace.

“ I was saddened by the news of Dorman's passing. He was so passionate about Willcox, preserving its history, guiding its growth, and making it a better community. He and Helen were active in many of the community organizations and events. You couldn't attend an event or function and not see them there. He and I built a special bond during the relocation and renovation of the historic train depot and other downtown projects. His leadership and vision has helped shape Willcox for years to come. I wish to express my heartfelt condolences to the family.

“ Dorman Brown:

I wish to express my admiration for Dorman and all that he did for Willcox. As immediate neighbors for many years Dorman and I visited daily and worked together closely on projects. Dorman was a city rebuilder, with a passion for historic preservation. The Southern Pacific depot/city hall, the Mystic/ Rex Allen Theatre, the Schley Saloon/Rex Allen Museum, the Schwertner House, the railroad dining car, the Mascot Railway car, the Maley Street properties, Dorman and Helen's last home are structures important to the history of Willcox and Arizona that would have been lost if not for Dorman's tenacity and engineering/construction skills. Historic preservation is one of the most lasting benefits a person can leave to society. Dorman will always be with us in those buildings. Following Dorman's inspiration and his example of what to do in "retirement," I was elected to the Bisbee City Council and continue to be active in historic preservation efforts, including our lovely historic home. Donna and I wish to express our condolences to the family. Dorman was indeed memorable.
