“ My favorite memories are when Howard came to our house for Thanksgiving dinners. Because we had so many people, we had buffet style dinners. Howard would never go to get food until I told him to help himself. He would tell me "Thank you" and join the line. He never got refills unless I told him to help himself to more if he wanted to and he would say, "Yes Ma'am, thank you". When it was time to go home with his group, I always got still another thank you as he was leaving. He had the nicest manners. He was such a gentle soul.
