

Jeremiah Padilla Laurelez

February 15, 1977 - February 3, 2026

Jeremiah P. Laurelez was born on February 15, 1977, in Tucson, Arizona, where he was raised and where his roots began. He passed away on February 3, 2026, leaving behind a family who loved him deeply and will continue to carry his memory forward.

Jeremiah spent his life throughout Arizona, with meaningful years in Willcox — where he met the mother of his children — and Prescott, where he and his family shared several important years together. Though life led him to move often, Arizona was always home to him.

He was a dedicated and hardworking man, known for his ability to take on any job and do it well. Jeremiah took pride in his work and had a natural talent for learning, building, fixing, and creating. Those who knew him understood that he showed his love through effort, reliability, and showing up the best way he knew how.

Jeremiah had a deep appreciation for music, especially oldies that connected him to memories of his own father. Music was a meaningful part of his life and a reflection of his creative spirit.

Above all, Jeremiah was a father. He is survived by his children, who carry his legacy forward through their strength, creativity, and love.

Jeremiah will be remembered for his work ethic, his pride in what he did, his appreciation for music, and the lasting impact he made on those who knew him. He will be deeply missed and always remembered.
