“ Memories of my friend J seem so young and juvenile. As kids it was just fun things; basketball, hide and seek tag, ride our bikes or horses, ride all the livestock to see if theyll buck, build tree forts, shoot bb guns. One truly fond memory was getting the family car (ford tempo) stuck down by the Verde river. Thankfully my brother Marvin was the one "responsible". Although, I think Mr. Cox was still pretty mad at J. High School rodeo was pretty neat. J was as much or more excited than me the first time I rode 8 seconds. When the Cox family moved away I was pretty upset. I thought, great there goes my best friend. But I would see J from time to time, here or there. I even got to ride with him in a few more rodeos. He was still my best bud, and would always greet me with a smile, and emphatically say "hey Gilligan!" Truly J was memorable. A real. good. friend. I'm so very sad that I'll never see my bud again. Rest in peace J.
