“ It has been a year and frankly, it has been the most challenging year of my life. I can say there hasn't been one day I haven't cried for 365 days. Your niece is fine-tuning your song, Black Ashe. Like you she has pipes. Your son Angel is your legacy and thrives as a wrestler. Rico looks just like you. I love you, brother, and there will never be another person in you in this. Your memory and legacy shall never cease. You will only have one death. The physical for every day your name is spoken, and your memories are never forgotten. In the name of the Father, Son, and holy spirit, may our entire family find peace without you because you were a God. You were my parent's most sensible and loved son. I have always known this. May the sunshine brightly on your youngest sons and their dreams come to pass.

“ Uncle Sal. It's Esme. My dad cries every day, and my mom talks about when she talked to you on the phone. Dad says, "you can never be replaced." I will remember you. We have pictures of our family on a wall for the day of the dead. Dad says, "we must honor the family no longer here and always remember. "

“ Your niece will always wish she got to know her Uncle Sal better but will cherish the time she did get to spend with you and the phone calls she was able to have with you. You were taken from this Earth too soon, and I mourn your passing and the fact that I did not get to know you better. A bright soul. Always remembered, always missed.

“ Humanity believes we may consider that life would be eternal and time to reconnect would never cease. Sadly, often we run out of roadway before we reach that destination of being a complete unit.

I will never forget and miss you forever—your big brother.

I may have been the oldest, but I was the smallest. I walked among Giants. You were more than a Giant; you were the heart and soul of the family. Not any of us could ever exhibit your value and awareness.

I will lay your stone in Yuma, Az. where the sun shall shine its brightest on your name. I promise your legacy will carry on in every way.
